

1991
Exchange student National University of Singapore.

1991
Graduated with honors from Brown University, majoring in Literature & Society

WHO IS BRAD GORDON?

PRESENT

Since 2018, Brad has led a team to investigate Mr. Sothea Arun, the former executive director of the INGO Sovann Komar and his accomplices, who are accused of torture, intentional violence against children, abuse and fraud amongst other crimes. As a result, Brad has been subjected to death threats, a nuisance suit for armed robbery by Mr. Sothea (which has now been dismissed) and has taken enormous personal risk for himself and his team in seeking justice for the victims.

FACT

He worked for the last 9 years on the safe return of Khmer antiquities to Cambodia.

1988

Volunteered to teach children with Save the Children and UNHCR in refugee camps in Singapore and Thailand. In Thailand, he taught English to Cambodian refugee children.

1988

Awarded the distinguished honor of a C.V. Starr Fellowship, presented by Archbishop Desmond Tutu for working with refugees.

1989

Taught as a volunteer to Buddhist monks from Laos in Providence, Rhode Island.

1995

Graduated from Harvard Law School. One of the top law schools in the world.

2007

Moved to Cambodia to help introduce more investors to the country.

2009-2021

Brad's passion for Cambodia led to him to establish his own advisory firm in Phnom Penh which continues to today.

2009-2021

Other work includes advising on many international films produced in Cambodia, including "First They Killed My Father" and "Buoyancy."

2009-2021

Advised many of the leading Cambodian business families, NGOs and entrepreneurs. Also advised the Royal Government of Cambodia.

FACT

One of Brad's passions is the preservation and promotion of a better understanding about the ancient history of Cambodia.

1995

Started his legal career in New York, followed by London, Singapore, Hong Kong and Tokyo, working with top international law firms.